

A HUNDRED YEARS AND COUNTING...

For well over 100 years the Sherborn Historical Society has endeavored to preserve the history of our town that began in 1652. Whether you live in an early built home or one newly created we all reside on the same grounds as our early settlers. Sherborn is proud of its rural heritage.

This agricultural history is still evident with its many active farms and orchards as well as other extensive public spaces including our Town Forest and Farm Pond. Sherborn strongly supports community involvement as evident in its parks, buildings and numerous dedicated town volunteer organizations.

Presently we rely on financial support from grants and donations to support the work of providing conservation work for the collections, curating exhibitions, and archival resources.

Our membership dues only provide a percentage of our overall costs.

We hope that you will consider not only joining us as members (or renewing your existing membership) but also making a donation in support of our future and the town's past.
